

Prefects commissioned by Archbishop

Meriden's 2023 Prefects were recently commissioned at St Andrew's Cathedral during an annual service for student leaders of Anglican schools. The service, led by the Archbishop of Sydney, the Most Reverend Kanishka Raffel, was attended by prefects from thirty-two Anglican schools.

During his address, the Archbishop challenged the young leaders to consider servant leadership with a reflection on a passage from Luke.

Meriden girls enjoyed meeting with prefects from other Sydney schools and discussing what service-based leadership meant to them. They also participated in a lively question and answer session with the Archbishop.

Accompanied by Mrs Chilton and Mrs Kirolos, the girls gained insight into the importance of values-driven leadership and how they could positively engage with and impact the Meriden community.

Meriden's 2023 Prefects at the commissioning service

