UNSW's High School Engineering Outreach Program

Registration is now open until 20 March

The below message is from UNSW's Women in Technology society.

UNSW Women in Technology (WIT) is excited to invite you to our annual 2023 High School Outreach program. Women in Technology is a student society at the University of New South Wales, composed of both women and men that focuses on connecting, engaging and inspiring women in the STEM industry. Our aim is to facilitate a smoother transition from high school to university and then to professional life within the technology sector.

Our High School Outreach program is a great opportunity for high school students from Years 10 - 12 who are interested in learning more about what a degree in technology looks like as well as developing technical and personal skills. We have top industry representatives joining us on the day to provide insight into their field. You will have the chance to network and gain mentoring from various company professionals and university students.

The program will occur in person at UNSW (Kensington Campus) during the Term 1 school holidays on 15 April 2023 from 10:00am to 4:30pm. Please let us know if you would be interested in participating in our program this year, by the 20 March. If any students would like to register for the event, please complete this form. If you have any questions, please contact competitions@unswwit.com.
