

Junior School Prefects draw inspiration at IPSHA Social Action Expo

Junior School Prefects left the IPSHA Social Action Expo inspired, energised and determined to continue their work in making a positive difference in our school community.

The Prefects attended the Expo earlier this month, presenting the successes of their initiatives to students and teachers from other schools. They engaged in meaningful discussions about their projects and explored ways to enhance their efforts in the future.

The students heard from representatives from charity organisations Cana Communities, the b kinder foundation, and SchoolAid. Each speaker shared information about their organisation, emphasising the importance of compassion, kindness and taking meaningful action to support marginalised communities.

The Social Action Expo was a day filled with learning, sharing and inspiration.
