

A taste of tradition: Students explore Chinese culture

Years 9 and 11 Chinese and Chinese Heritage students recently participated in a series of engaging cultural workshops. The activities, which included shadow play, mooncake making and lantern making, gave the girls a chance to experience traditional Chinese arts and crafts firsthand.

In the shadow play workshop, students used jointed puppets to create silhouettes on a screen. In preparation for the Mid-Autumn Festival, they also learned to make beautiful snow skin mooncakes with delicious fillings and assembled wooden, moon-shaped lanterns. The girls' impressive creativity and collaborative spirit were on full display throughout the workshops.

These experiences provided an invaluable opportunity for the students to deepen their understanding of Chinese culture and connect with traditions like the Mid-Autumn Festival.
